Good morning Mark, not sure if I told you but wife and I are moving to the East Coast of Florida and into our new house on Jan 2, so it's hectic around here with packing and logistics.

Regarding the deal you proposed yesterday, I remember this situation from a few months ago. I'm going to pass. I just don't have the liquidity to be honest, everything tied up.

The deal I wanted to tell you about is set up almost exactly like CG in how it pays out. It is ultra low risk and not trading or crypto related although you need crypto to buy "units".

To put it simply it is a crypto arbitrage program where we buy blocks of adwords at wholesale and the program retails them and we make 25% monthly ROI.

I am going to Atlanta with Jamzee next week if you'd like to join us on the 13th for dinner with the founder.

Would love to have you with me on this.

Here's my link: <https://cryptoprogram.me/register?referralCode=A9450B58>

I think this is right up our alley for what we want to be getting our people involved in and especially now that it's only minimum $550 like CG was in the beginning.

I have a busy afternoon but if you want to discuss this or anything else, I should be totally free between 11am and 1pm CST.

Awesome,
Scott
